#MonacoEPrix

The city and Formula E

After 2015 and 2017, the all-electric racing series is visiting Monaco for the third time. This year, Formula E is racing again on the Formula One circuit, which is reduced by about half of its length, in the heart of the city-state.

Local mobility

Vehicles with alternative powertrains have been promoted in the principality for nearly 15 years. Prince Albert II, who has been reigning since 2005, is both a horsepower and environmental enthusiast. Shortly following his coronation, he had the fleet of the Grimaldi dynasty, which has been ruling for some 700 years, converted to hybrid and fully electric vehicles.
