The city and Formula E

For the second time, the all-electric racing series visits the "Eternal City." As in 2018, the race will be held on the grounds of the World Exposition that had been planned for 1942 but was cancelled due to the Second World War. The city circuit in the southwest of Rome has 21, mostly rectangular corners.

Local mobility

Alternative transportation concepts have not yet been implemented in Rome. Cars, motorcycles and scooters account for 65 percent of the commuter traffic. From 2024 on, diesel-powered automobiles are supposed to be banned in the capital city.
